CALL FOR PROPOSALS
Teaching and Learning Technology Conference
April 25th, 2008

Educational Technology @ Missouri S&T, a new department inside Information Technology, would like to invite you to submit a presentation proposal for the April 25, 2008 conference. Many faculty and teaching professionals have developed creative approaches to the process of teaching and learning utilizing educational technology effectively that have worked to enhance your programs. Here is a great opportunity to share your experiences and achievements! Please submit all proposals by March 28, 2008 to edtech@mst.edu. Decisions regarding acceptance will be made by April 2nd, with notification following soon after.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The conference will be an all-day event in the Havener Center, consisting of concurrent sessions with a variety of times to best suit different types of presentations. Pick the session that best fits your topic of presentation. We are seeking proposals from Missouri S&T faculty and teaching professionals who have utilized educational technology and would like to share those experiences with colleagues. The keynote speaker for the conference will be Dr. Rocky Keel, a faculty expert from the University of Missouri-St. Louis, who will be discussing the effective uses of Blackboard within his courses and the experiences from students. Dr. Keel, Teaching Professor in Sociology at UM-St. Louis, has been teaching sociology for 30 years, and has been integrating web and Internet-based instruction into his classes since 1993. From 2000-2005, he served as the faculty coordinator of the MyGateway system at UM-St. Louis. He has made numerous presentations to professional, academic, and community groups on a variety of topics relating to online and distance education, as well as the social implications of the Internet.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

1. Showcase a variety of teaching and learning strategies.
2. Foster ongoing campus collaboration.
3. Provide information on educational technology currently available on campus.
