John Cook reported that Staff Council is finalizing plans for the May 29 Staff Recognition Day. He said tee-shirts should be available soon. Anyone interested in donating or volunteering for Staff Day should contact Lisa Winstead. John mentioned that Staff Council will hold its first “Stop-By-After,” which is a networking event to be held at the Public House at 4:30 p.m. that day. He closed by saying that nominations for Staff Council will open on May 29.

B. Student Council

- NO REPORT

C. Council of Graduate Students

- NO REPORT
Michael Bruening, President of Faculty Senate, announced that he had an unscripted announcement before beginning his report. He went on to say that Barbara Palmer will be retiring at the end of May and that this will be her last Senate meeting. Dr. Bruening noted her extensive service to faculty senate, which has included making preparations for the annual Board-of-Curators breakfast/luncheon and for committee elections, as well as preparing the initial draft of the faculty senate meeting minutes. He presented her with a plaque in recognition of her service to the university and to Faculty Senate. Misty House will be supporting the Senate beginning with the June meeting.

Dr. Bruening reported that Intercampus Faculty Council (IFC) last met on April 16. One topic of discussion is a new process for recording the last day of academic activity for students who fail or withdraw from classes. There was also discussion of changing the CRRs related to emeritus status to allow non-tenure track faculty to receive the designation and to tighten up restrictions on non-faculty administrators seeking the designation.

Information from the eLearning Task Force about the development of an eLearning environment across the UM System and implementation of the Governance Structure was discussed. Dr. Bruening highlighted the eLearning Strategy and Oversight Committee and the Online Faculty Advisory Committee. David Enke, Keng Siau, and Klaus Woelk are currently serving as S&T’s members of the Faculty Technical Group which will become the Online Faculty Advisory Committee under the new structure.

There was a presentation to IFC about data-driven assessment for academic program review, specifically using Academic Analytics, and a discussion on whether to revise CRR 330.065 Consensual Romantic Relationships to prohibit relationships between faculty and any undergraduate and between faculty and any graduate student in the same department. The CRR currently is limited to faculty and students over which they have a supervisory role.

By way of an update on referrals and recent committee actions, Dr. Bruening stated that the work on the Bylaws revision continues, there has been a new referral to Budgetary Affairs and the Student Awards and Financial Aid committees concerning the use of department scholarship funds, and a new referral to the Personnel Committee regarding the availability of confidential faculty annual review reports to the deans.

Dr. Bruening mentioned that the budget cut proposals should be announced next week. Although state budget projections seem to be shifting slightly upwards, there will still likely be cuts. He asked if there is interest in submitting a resolution from Faculty Senate giving up the 2% merit raise pool to save staff jobs. He read a draft of a potential resolution on the topic, but the senate suggested that no action be taken for the time being while the senators took the draft resolution back to their departments for input.

Dr. Bruening reported that 2 finalists in the Chancellor Search were interviewed on campus the previous week and that the expectation is that an agreement will be reached 10-14 days from Tuesday. He reminded the Senate of several upcoming events, including the General Faculty meeting scheduled for May 7, the May 13 deadline for nominations for Faculty External Rewards and Recognitions Committee awards, Commencement (May 17, 18), and the Fitness Center Dedication.

He mentioned several recent recognitions: Mark Fitch, President’s Award for University Citizenship-Service; Kate Sheppard, S&T’s Woman of the Year; Katie Shannon, Women’s Advocate of the Year Award; and Kelvin Erickson, Governor’s Award for Excellence in Teaching.

In closing, Dr. Bruening reported that the Curators passed a revision of CRR 20.110, which annulled the section of our bylaws on chair searches. He requested feedback on a proposal for temporary procedures to allow us to move forward with ongoing chair searches, and ideas for a long-term proposal, such as Bylaw revision or Policy Memorandum. Suggestions should be submitted by May 17. He expects to present a revised chair-search process at the June 13 senate meeting.

Dr. Larry Gragg was recognized by the Senate, at which time he presented a root beer float to Dr. Bruening on behalf of the College of Arts, Sciences, and Business Advisory Committee for his service as Faculty Senate President.

C. Budgetary Affairs

Professor Richard Dawes presented the Budgetary Affairs report for Mark Fitch, who was on a field trip. He briefly discussed the active referrals, including scholarship offsets and distribution of distance revenue by academic department. He explained that there is disparity between departments with some having substantial scholarships and others having almost none. Departments are encouraged not to let the scholarship funds sit but to use them to recruit new students. Development officers will work with department chairs to design a new process by December for the next academic year. He mentioned that budget projections for FY21 remain unchanged from the last report but there are indications that the number of fewer freshmen may be larger than previously estimated.

D. Administrative Review

Ian Ferguson was unexpectedly unable to attend the meeting. ProfessorBruening briefly reviewed the report sent by the Administrative Review Committee, saying that the committee has reviewed the positions of the Provost and both deans. The final reports have been reviewed by the committee with 141 responses reported for the Provost, 67 responses for the CASB Vice Provost and Dean, and 108 responses for the CEC Vice Provost and Dean. The chair of the committee is scheduled meet with the Faculty Senate Officers to discuss the results, the results will be shared with the supervisors of those reviewed, and a report will be presented at the June Faculty Senate meeting.
VI. Administrative Reports

- NO REPORT

B. Provost’s Report

Provost Marley reported that two searches have been brought to conclusion since the last Senate meeting. Paul Orscheln will join S&T on June 1 as the Vice Provost for Enrollment Management and Hslin-liang (Oliver) Chen will begin his duties as Vice Provost and Dean of the Library on July 1.

He stated that four candidates for the Chief eLearning Officer position have been identified and will be interviewed next week. He reiterated that the hiring of this individual will have considerations relative to the Vice Provost of Global Learning position in terms of what that will look like. He commented that one of the things he anticipates seeing in our budget reductions is that it will affect our global structure. He also mentioned that he is participating on a committee to select an eLearning service vendor from four companies under consideration.

Provost Marley closed his report by stating that he began administrative service in 1996. He referenced the letter he sent out earlier in the week announcing that he is stepping down after 5 years of service as Provost. He mentioned some of the challenges faced by the university in the last five years and expressed his appreciation for the opportunity to work with the Senate.
